

BECHMANN SIDENIUS

Water Edgy blues and the last of the dust from a deserted swamp area, are some of the indications and thoughts that arise when you describe "Bechmann Sidenius"

It's Blues interpretations with a new cut and an authenticity that suggests high headroom, lots of "Texas space" and a loving, but raw energy.

The inspiration is clearly traced to the direction of the American Doyle Bramhall and Gary Clark Jr. "Bechmann Sidenius" is a constellation that is characterized by changing moods, ranging from a spherical dreamy universe to raw- edge blues.

Janus Bechmann & Morten Sidenius have both matured on the music scene over the past several years, as sidemen (Live & Studio work) for a wide range of Danish and foreign artists. Now they have joined forces and formed the duo "Bechmann Sidenius" In short, a music experience that should and must be experienced live.
